Mustard oil is popular in Nepal and currently being used as an oil treatment for hair. Seeing the similar value of Virgin Coconut Oil of the Philippines, CocoNaturals wants to assess the opportunity of entering the foreign market. You are assigned to conduct a market research to determine the acceptability of coconut-oil as a substitute to mustard oil in the country of origin. Given the limited budget, you are only allowed to ask ten questions (excluding demographic profile), with three of them allocated to open-ends. Write the actual ten questions you will ask to the customers, label if they are open ended or closed ended.
